The Aspermont European Equity Rotator Basket

The Actively Managed Certificate (AMC) linked to the Aspermont European Equity Rotator Basket gives investors the opportunity to invest in a dynamic, broadly diversified European equity portfolio. Since investments are made exclusively in indices, stock-specific risks are eliminated. The strategy is designed to give the manager the opportunity to add direct sector exposure by under/overweighting specific segment comparing to index weight. Target weightings are determined by both fundamental and technical aspects and are continuously reviewed and adjusted as necessary. We place emphasis on the relative strength indicator (RSI), which is a technical momentum indicator that compares the magnitude of recent gains to recent losses of the asset to identify overbought and oversold conditions.

Manager's Comment

Europe corrected in March. The European Stoxx 600 Index was down -4.18% with the more concentrated European Stoxx 50 returning -3.94%. The European Rotator itself performed slightly better with -3.14% in March. At the end of the month our basket was invested in 18 European sectors, one European country and 3% cash

In March there were no changes made to our basket. Four of our five overweight sectors outperformed the market this month. Most notably our +2.5% OW in Insurance (+5.4% performance) that was the second best performing sector in Europe in March. Notably both Allianz and MunichRe's stock performance captured their positive earnings release at the end of the month. Our +2.5% OW in Banks held well and returned +1.38% in March, continued the earnings momentum from the previous month with the top weight Banco Santander only dropping -0.42% compared to the whole index. Telecom, also a +2.5% OW position in our portfolio, outperformed the broader market with 0.51% performance. Our +5% OW in Industrial Goods & Services corrected in March, but less than the overall market with -2.9% helped by Airbus and Safran's overall portfolio that also includes defense technology. Our repositioning at the end of the last month was a good decision as the increase back to Neutral in Oil & Gas allowed it to capture the +2.5% positive performance of the sector. Technology was one of the sectors that we held -2.5% UW and that was a very good decision as this sector corrected -8.61%. Food & Beverages, also an UW -2.5% sector, also corrected -3.45% in March. One of the smaller sectors that we hold UW -1% is Basic Resources. This sector was very weak and had a -7.96% performance in March. Our cash position is 3% and we are looking to increase this going into April with the tariff discussions picking up.
